Symposium on Tools for Supporting Doctoral Students, Methodology for Writing a Doctoral Thesis, and Publishing in Indexed Journals

September 24th and 25th, 2023

The University of Jijel - Mohamed Seddik Benyahia is proud to host a two-day doctoral symposium aimed at providing essential tools and support for doctoral students. This symposium will cover topics such as effective methodologies for crafting a doctoral thesis and navigating the process of publishing scientific articles in indexed journals.

The event will take place on September 24th and 25th, 2023, and will be led by a distinguished group of university lecturers holding magisterial ranks. These speakers have tailored the symposium to meet the specific needs of both university teachers and doctoral students across various disciplines.

Key Objectives of the Symposium:

During these two days, the symposium aims to achieve the following main objectives:

- 1. Developing Essential Writing Skills
- 2. Navigating Editorial Decision-Making and Peer Review
- 3. Ethics and Protocols of Scientific Publication
